

SONY ANNOUNCES REVISION OF CONSOLIDATED FORECAST
FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING MARCH 31, 2007

Tokyo, October 19, 2006 -- Sony Corporation announced a revision of its consolidated results forecast for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2007 from that announced on July 27, 2006.

Consolidated Results Forecast

| | Current Forecast* | Change from previous forecast | Previous Forecast |
|--|--------------------------|--|--------------------------|
| Sales and operating revenue | ¥8,230 billion | Unchanged | ¥8,230 billion |
| Operating income | 50 billion | -62% | 130 billion |
| (Restructuring charges included within Operating income | 40 billion | -20 | 50 billion) |
| Income before income taxes | 70 billion | -53 | 150 billion |
| Equity in net income of affiliated companies | 40 billion | Unchanged | 40 billion |
| Net income | 80 billion | -38 | 130 billion |

*Assumed foreign currency exchange rates for the second half of the fiscal year: approximately ¥114 to the U.S. dollar and approximately ¥145 to the Euro.

The above revised forecast is primarily a result of the following factors:

1. Sony plans to record a provision of approximately ¥51 billion within the Electronics segment during the second quarter of the fiscal year ending March 31, 2007. This relates to charges expected to be incurred as a result of the recall by Dell Inc., Apple Computer Inc. and Lenovo Inc. of notebook computer battery packs that use lithium-ion battery cells manufactured by Sony and the subsequent global replacement program initiated by Sony for certain notebook computer battery packs used by Sony and other notebook computer manufacturers that use lithium-ion battery cells manufactured by Sony.
2. A decrease in sales and an increase in operating loss are expected within the Game segment as a result of the reduction of the retail price of PLAYSTATION®3 (“PS3”) hardware in Japan and the fact that sales and profitability from the PSP® (PlayStation®Portable) business are expected to be lower than originally forecast.
3. Decreased operating income is anticipated within the Electronics segment due to a production adjustment of devices for use in PS3 including semiconductors.
4. During the second quarter of the fiscal year ending March 31, 2007, foreign exchange rates trended favorably compared to our previous forecast as a result of the depreciation of the yen. We have also changed our assumption for foreign currency rates, as noted above, to reflect a depreciation of the yen during the second half of the fiscal year below the rates assumed in the July 27, 2006 forecast (assumed foreign currency exchange rates in the July forecast were approximately ¥113 to the U.S. dollar and approximately ¥136 to the Euro).

5. Restructuring charges, recorded as operating expenses, are now forecasted to be ¥40 billion, compared to an anticipated ¥50 billion of restructuring charges included in the July forecast. Due to the successful redeployment of personnel to growth business areas, early retirement expenses are expected to be lower than originally anticipated.

Although Sony's consolidated results during the current fiscal year will be negatively impacted principally by the provision relating to the aforementioned battery pack recall and global replacement program, as well as the revision to the PS3 launch schedule, we have continued to produce hit products in our LCD TV and digital imaging product categories, including digital cameras, which are both driving factors behind future business growth, and operating results for our overall Electronics business continue to recover favorably. With regard to PS3, although we expect to record a loss for the business during its initial launch phase within the current fiscal year, we look forward to the successful worldwide deployment and expansion of the platform, beginning with the Japanese and North American launch in November 2006, followed by the European launch in March 2007. As a result, we expect that we can realize a significant improvement in profitability during the fiscal year ending March 31, 2008.

Consolidated Results for the Second Quarter of the Fiscal Year ending March 31, 2007

Consolidated results for the quarter ended September 30, 2006 are projected to include sales and operating revenue of approximately ¥1,850 billion, an operating loss of approximately ¥21 billion, a loss before income taxes of approximately ¥26 billion, equity in net income of affiliated companies of approximately ¥20 billion and net income of approximately ¥2 billion. Restructuring charges of approximately ¥5 billion are included in operating expenses. The preceding operating loss and loss before income taxes numbers include the recording of a provision of approximately ¥51 billion relating to charges resulting from the notebook computer battery recall and global replacement program discussed in note 1 above. The impact to net income as a result of this provision is approximately ¥30 billion. However, please note that the above totals are subject to confirmation and that Sony's consolidated operating results for the second quarter are scheduled to be announced on October 26, 2006.

Cautionary Statement

Statements made in this release with respect to Sony's current plans, estimates, strategies and beliefs and other statements that are not historical facts are forward-looking statements about the future performance of Sony. Forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, those statements using words such as "believe," "expect," "plans," "strategy," "prospects," "forecast," "estimate," "project," "anticipate," "aim," "may" or "might" and words of similar meaning in connection with a discussion of future operations, financial performance, events or conditions. From time to time, oral or written forward-looking statements may also be included in other materials released to the public. These statements are based on management's assumptions and beliefs in light of the information currently available to it. Sony cautions you that a number of important risks and uncertainties could cause actual results to differ materially from those discussed in the forward-looking statements, and therefore you should not place undue reliance on them. You also should not rely on any obligation of Sony to update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise. Sony disclaims any such obligation. Risks and uncertainties that might affect Sony include, but are not limited to (i) the global economic environment in which Sony operates, as well as the economic conditions in Sony's markets, particularly levels of consumer spending; (ii) exchange rates, particularly between the yen and the U.S. dollar, the Euro and other currencies in which Sony makes significant sales or in which Sony's assets and liabilities are denominated; (iii) Sony's ability to continue to design and develop and win acceptance of, as well as achieve sufficient cost reductions for, its products and services, which are offered in highly competitive markets characterized by continual new product introductions, rapid development in technology and subjective and changing consumer preferences (particularly in the Electronics, Game and Pictures segments, and music business); (iv) Sony's ability to recoup large-scale investment required for technology development, increasing production capacity and by the Game segment for the development and introduction of a new platform; (v) Sony's ability to implement successfully personnel reduction and other business reorganization activities in its Electronics segment; (vi) Sony's ability to implement successfully its network strategy for its Electronics, Game and Pictures segments and All Other, including the music business, and to develop and implement successful sales and distribution strategies in its Pictures segment and music business in light of the Internet and other technological developments; (vii) Sony's continued ability to devote sufficient resources to research and development and, with respect to capital expenditures, to correctly prioritize investments (particularly in the Electronics segment); (viii) shifts in customer demand for financial services such as life insurance and Sony's ability to conduct successful Asset Liability Management in the Financial Services segment; and (ix) the success of Sony's joint ventures and alliances. Risks and uncertainties also include the impact of any future events with material unforeseen impacts.

Investor Relations Contacts:

Tokyo

Takao Yuhara

+81-(0)3-5448-2180

Home Page: <http://www.sony.net/IR/>

New York

Sam Levenson/Justin Hill/

Miki Emura

+1-212-833-6722

London

Shinji Tomita

+44-(0)20-7444-9713